Cloud-Based Retail Platform

invenco by GVR

Retail outlook today

Higher consumer demand for adjacent services and options, such as in c-store shopping, delivery & pickup services

Risk of legacy platforms delaying retail evolution

Increased awareness around cybersecurity and preventing incidents

Utilizing estate to offer a broader range of services, such as retail centers, cafes/ restaurants, and business hubs

Growing demand for faster, contactless, as well as self-service purchase journeys

Increasing focus on sustainability & accelerating the adoption of alternatives to fossil fuels

Adoption of advanced technology: Artificial Intelligence (AI), Machine Learning (ML), Cloud & Internet of Things (IoT)

Raised concern around environmental issues, evident in paperless receipts and mobile loyalty programs

Fueling Stations are Moving to Full-Blown Retail & Business Centers

In today's rapidly evolving market, consumers increasingly expect convenience, online service, and a quick check-out.

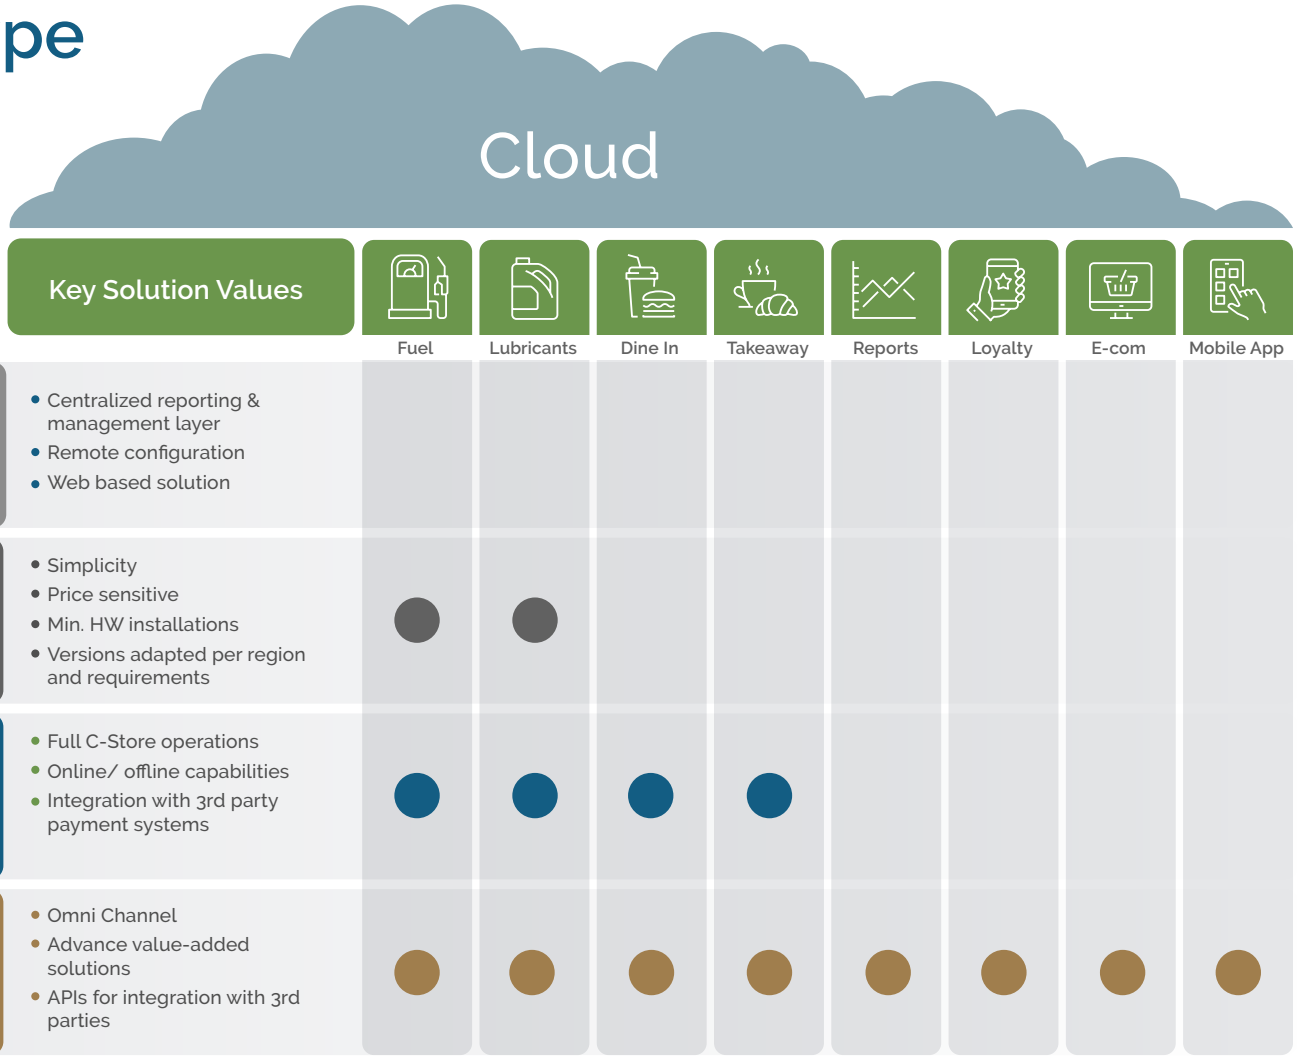

Whether you are a global oil company, franchisee, or dealer, having a powerful, dynamic platform is crucial to maintaining a competitive edge and retaining customer loyalty in today's competitive retail landscape.

Tackle tomorrow's retail challenges
today with a versatile platform that meets your future needs.

Configurable

for any station type

Move beyond monolithic legacy point-of-sale (POS) systems with the cloud-based retail platform created specifically for the demands of modern omnichannel retail

	Legacy POS	Next generation retail platform
Hardware	Typically bulky, stationary terminals	Typically modular and/or portable units
Software & Updates	Installed on-premise by a technician	Software updates automatically and real-time wherever there is internet
Data storage	Local server	Remote cloud access
Accessibility	On-site/in-person access only	Via any internet-enabled device for any time, anywhere access
Extensibility	Limited to no third party integrations	Support diverse feature upgrades through third-party integrations (APIs)
Maintenance	Data access, systems integrations, stationary hardware, high cost, low flexibility	Majority of support calls handled remotely
Limitations	On-location for most issues. Costly due to call-out fees.	Internet reliance for full functionality in some instances

Omnichannel is the future
